Request for Proposal from Consultants for production of Video Documentation on Perinatal Health intervention in Bardiya District

Context

Geruwa Rural Awareness Association (GERUWA) in partnership with Terre des hommes (Tdh) replicated the SIMESON approach in Nepal in April 2019. With an aim of reducing a burden of maternal deaths, stillbirth, and neonatal death and eventually. The project is being implemented in 25 health care facilities/ birthing centers of all eight local units of Bardiya district.

The project focuses on community empowerment, strengthening of existing government system and advocacy. The main objective is to decrease perinatal morbidity and mortality through capacity building of rural birth attendants and eventually to contribute the country to achieve the health targets for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) by 2030.

Innovatively the project has been building capacities of rural Auxiliary Nurse Midwives (ANMs) through simulation based modular onsite coaching and mentoring activities. Worth mentioning is the project's contribution to the individual capacity development where remarkable changes have been noted in mentors training delivery capacity and improvement on the skills of the trainees.

This assignment aim to highlight the need and importance of Perinatal Health and achievement of SIMESON approach through production of a high-quality video for the purpose of dissemination during interviews with the mentors, mentees, beneficiaries, project participants, stakeholders and Capture footage of simulation exercises, review/reflection session between mentor and mentees, consultation with pregnant and lactating mothers.
